

La repoblación forestal del Monte Gibralfaro...

The reforestation of Mount Gibralfaro was undertaken in 1939, and it forever changed the perception of the monumental complex, undoubtedly beautifying the surroundings and giving the city a green space, but causing it to lose its image as an impregnable space. Up until then, the hill had been a barren space, which facilitated its defence, preventing fires and ambushes and giving a view of the majestic fortification complex from all vantage points in the city and from the sea
